

Contents

	Note on Transliteration	xi
	Acknowledgments	xiii
	Prologue: Approaching a Permanent State of Emergency	I
1	Production Notes	10
2	“Gaza Is Ruled by a Child”: The Intifada and the Rhetoric of Generation	35
3	Between Romance and Tragedy: A Balata Family Confronts the Present	75
4	The Secret Locations of Memory: Political Lessons at Home and in Prison	111
5	The Testing Grounds of Memory: Social Inversion at School and in the Streets	141
6	“In the Beginning . . . but Afterward . . .”: Moral Chronologies and Reassessments of the Intifada	163
7	Postscript: A Permanent State of Emergency (continued)	211
	Appendix: The Intifada: A Brief Overview	229
	Notes	235
	Glossary of Arabic Terms	253
	Bibliography	255
	Index	267
	About the Author	285