

Contents

Introduction: Is China's Transformation Sustainable?	1
David B. H. Denoon

Part I: Foreign Policy and National Security

1. The People's Army: Serving Whose Interests?	17
June Teufel Dreyer	September 1994
2. Uncertainty, Insecurity, and China's Military Power	27
Paul H. B. Godwin	September 1997
3. Does China Have a Grand Strategy?	39
Michael D. Swaine	September 2000
4. Sino-American Relations since September 11: Can the New Stability Last?	51
David Shambaugh	September 2002
5. Asia in the Balance: America and China's "Peaceful Rise"	64
Robert Sutter	September 2004

Part II: Economic Policy and Social Issues

6. The Long March from Mao: China's De-Communization	77
Liu Binyan	September 1993
7. China's North-South Split and the Forces of Disintegration	85
Edward Friedman	September 1993
8. The Dangers of Economic Complacency	96
Barry Naughton	September 1996
9. Rumbblings from the Uyghur	106
Dru C. Gladney	September 1997

10. Beijing's Ambivalent Reformers 114

Bruce J. Dickson September 2004

11. China's New Exchange Rate Regime 127

Barry Eichengreen September 2005

Part III: Domestic Politics and Governance

12. Is Democracy Possible? 137

Merle Goldman September 1995

13. The Leader in the Shadows: A View of Deng Xiaoping 147

Lucian W. Pye September 1996

14. Village Elections: Democracy from the Bottom Up? 162

Tyrene White September 1998

15. An All-Consuming Nationalism 172

Michael Dutton September 1999

16. Understanding Falun Gong 182

Richard Madsen September 2000

17. China's New Leadership: The Challenges to the Politics of Muddling Through 192

Tony Saich September 2002

18. China's Environmental Challenge 204

Elizabeth Economy September 2005

Chronology of Recent Events 217

About the Contributors 243