
Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Preface: On Being a Historian in Four Countries	1
Nationalism: The Case of Ireland—An Introduction	33
PART I: Contested Ideas of Nationhood
1 Contested Ideas of Nationhood, 1800–1995 (1997)	59
2 1875: Faith or Fatherland? The Contested Symbolism of Irish Nationalism (2000)	81
3 Faith and Fatherland Revisited (2000)	97
4 Parnell and Beyond: Nationalism in These Islands, 1880–1980 (1994)	111
5 Language and Politics (2001)	128
6 Thatcher’s Britain: Four Nations or One? (1991)	147
7 Four Nations History in Perspective (2004)	153
8 Civic/Ethnic Identities in a British Context (2000)	163
9 The Changing Face of English Nationalism (2000)	179
10 England’s Irish Enigma (1997)	188

PART II: Contested Ideas of National History

11	The Irish and Their History (1994)	203
12	Mercantilism and Ireland, 1620–40 (1958)	211
13	Ecclesiastical Politics and the Counter-Reformation in Ireland, 1618–48 (1960)	224
14	The Politics of Mercantilism, 1695–1700 (1959)	237
15	Fr. Mathew: Apostle of Modernization (1979)	256
16	The Great Famine: Legend and Reality (1957)	270
17	Colonizing Irish History: Canny Sets the Agenda (2002)	280
18	Visions and Revisions: Views of Irish History (2001)	290
	Index	299
	About the Author	309