

---

Contents

Foreword by Philip J. Greven ix

Acknowledgments xiii

Introduction 1
James Marten

PART I Race and Colonization

1 Indian Children in Early Mexico 13
Dorothy Tanck de Estrada

2 Colonizing Childhood: Religion, Gender, and Indian Children in Southern New England, 1600–1720 33
R. Todd Romero

3 Imperial Ideas, Colonial Realities:
Enslaved Children in Jamaica, 1775–1834 48
Audra Abbe Diptee

DOCUMENTS

“The Younger Sort Reverence the Elder”:
A Pilgrim Describes Indian Childrearing 61

“I Have Often Been Overcome While
Thinking on It”: A Slave Boy’s Life 63

PART II Family and Society

- 4 Sibling Relations in Early American Childhoods:
A Cross-Cultural Analysis 77
C. Dallett Hemphill
- 5 “I Shall Beat You, So That the Devil Shall Laugh at It”:
Children, Violence, and the Courts in New Amsterdam 90
Mariah Adin
- 6 “Improved” and “Very Promising Children”:
Growing Up Rich in Eighteenth-Century South Carolina 104
Darcy Fryer

DOCUMENTS

- “A Dutiful and Affectionate Daughter”:
Eliza Lucas of South Carolina 116
- “A Most Agreeable Family”:
Philip Vickers Fithian Meets the Carters 119

PART III Cares and Tribulations

- 7 “Decrepit in Their Early Youth”:
English Children in Holland and Plymouth Plantation 127
John J. Navin
- 8 Idiocy and the Construction of Competence in Colonial Massachusetts 141
Parnel Wickham
- 9 “My Constant Attension on My Sick Child”: The Fragility of Family Life in the World of Elizabeth Drinker 155
Helena M. Wall

DOCUMENTS

- “I Had Eight Birds Hatcht in One Nest”:
Anne Bradstreet Writes about Parenthood 168

PART IV Becoming Americans

- 10 From German Catholic Girls to Colonial American Women: Girlhood in the French Gulf South and the British Mid-Atlantic Colonies 175
Lauren Ann Kattner
- 11 “Let Both Sexes Be Carefully Instructed”:
Educating Youth in Colonial Philadelphia 191
Keith Pacholl
- 12 From Saucy Boys to Sons of Liberty:
Politicizing Youth in Pre-Revolutionary Boston 204
J. L. Bell

DOCUMENTS

- “Though I Was Often Beaten for My Play”:
The Autobiography of John Barnard 217
- “A Bookish Inclination”: Benjamin Franklin Grows Up 222
- In Search of the Historical Child:
Questions for Consideration 230
- Suggested Readings* 235
- About the Contributors* 245
- Index* 249